GERMANS CHECKING ALLIES

Storms Impede Enemy Dive Bombers, Tanks; Part Of Paris Afire

TOURS, France, June 11.—A Swiss telegraphic agency report tonight said Italian forces had attacked Tunis, Malta and Corsica. There were no details.

PARIS, June 11.—General Maxime Weygand's armies were declared tonight in dispatches from the front to be checking the invading Germans on the French left (west) flank, where the deepest Nazi thrust had carried light armored columns across the Seine. Thunderstorms broke over the vast dry and hot battlefields, impeding the dive bombers and tanks at the head of the German advance toward Paris. In the central section of the front northeast of Paris a German offensive was being met head-on in the Ourcq valley. The French right was declared holding firm in the Argonne.

LONDON, June 11.—The Daily Mail reported today that wave after wave of German bombing planes raided the Paris suburbs during the night, taking a heavy toll and doing great damage. Part of the city was reported in flames.

In a dispatch from Paris the Daily Mail said that the Germans sent great waves of bombers over the suburbs, blasting railroad centers and road junctions throughout the Paris area. The whole district around Paris was said to be strewn with wreckage of German bombers and German pursuit ships shot down by the French during the raid.

NAZI ATTACK TO BE SPENT SOON IS CLAIM

Germany "Throwing Everything They've Got" Into Big Battle

LONDON, June 11.—British military circles said today Germany was "throwing every single thing they've got into this battle because they've got to win it to win the war."

No doubt in the next few days the main force of the German attack must be spent, a spokesman said, adding that the exhaustion of the attack must inevitably be greater than that of the defenders. He cited the double attack on British yesterday which he said had "made hardly any progress" while the losses of men and tanks were "colossal."

RENDERED USELESS

The withdrawal of Allied troops from Narvik, Norway, he continued, was made only after the port was rendered useless for months to come and when it became clear that ships, men and guns used there were "required more urgently elsewhere."

Military circles said Italy entered the war for one of two reasons—because Mussolini thought Hitler was winning or because Hitler was losing.

Italy, the spokesman said, has 70 to 80 mobilized divisions, an air force and a navy and has greatly increased its armaments.

TURKEY HOLDS PARLEY TODAY ON WAR ENTRY

President Inonu Calls Cabinet To Discuss Situation

ANKARA, Turkey, June 11.—The Associated Press said today it was acknowledged in informed quarters that Turkey holds the key to Turkey's fulfillment of her mutual assistance treaty with Great Britain and France.

The cabinet met throughout the afternoon and the Associated Press reported its stand was reported to depend on a response from Russia as to the Soviet attitude in case Turkey should join the Allies in fighting Italy in the Mediterranean.

ETHIOPIANS ARE EXPECTED TO STAGE REVOLT

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, June 11.—Experts on Ethiopia asserted today that the country was eager to revolt and that Italy's entrance into the European war might lead to an uprising by more than 200,000 well-armed warriors.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia said to London from his villa at Bath as soon as Italy declared war.

A British spokesman says "It is to be assumed that the resistance of the Ethiopians against the Italians will increase considerably and that if they have the opportunity of getting arms and ammunition from outside it would be effective to a very high degree."

2 Gunmen Are Captured After Chase In City

Imperial Bank Branch On Norwood Boulevard Scene Of Robbery—Bandits Caught On Jasper And 97 Street

After committing a daring daylight holdup and robbery shortly after noon Tuesday at the Norwood branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada, 95A street and 111 avenue, two bandits were captured in a 12-block race between their car and armed clerks who fired shots at the fugitives.

Parking a coupe bearing a Manitoba license plate outside the bank, the bandits entered the bank, and one showed a note into the teller's cage reading: "Hand me over the money; this is a holdup. If you get funny I'll get you first." He snatched up a large amount of cash and then, becoming nervous, bolted for the door, followed by his companion.

Captured when their car was crowded against the curb in front of the Georgia cafe, on Jasper at 97 street, the men were taken to the city police station and identified as Fred Danyluk and John H. Merzavich, believed to be from Winnipeg, charged on charges of armed robbery.

When they fled from the bank they drove along Norwood boulevard, then south on 97 street, with P. L. Miller, sergeant, 116A 95A street, in pursuit. James Livingston, officer, 11629 97 street, first fired a shot from inside the bank.

Leatherstocker Miller commanded a passing motor vehicle to stop. The United States car was crowded against the curb in front of the Georgia cafe, on Jasper at 97 street, the men were taken to the city police station and identified as Fred Danyluk and John H. Merzavich, believed to be from Winnipeg, charged on charges of armed robbery.

ITALIAN SHIPS BEING SWEEPED FROM WATERS

Assurance of U.S. Material Aid Ensures Victory, Attlee Says

By J. F. SANDERSON
LONDON, June 11.—British and French naval power already has started to sweep Italian shipping off the seas, Clement Attlee, Lord privy seal, told the House of Commons today. The British navy, he said, "is sweeping Italian ships to others in British ports and there have been scuttles."

"We are not dismayed," Mr. Attlee declared after pouring invective on Mussolini for throwing his country into the war on the side of Germany.

President Roosevelt's assurance that the material resources of the United States would be placed at the disposal of the Allies in Britain and France with the greatest satisfaction, the minister said. "It makes it inevitable," he declared, "while the house purchases its supplies from the United States, 'however hard the road, that the cause of civilization will win the day over the cause of barbarism.'"

Mr. Attlee filled in for Prime Minister Churchill, who was prevented from appearing in the house by the rapidly changing military situation caused by Italy's declaration of war.

Bandits Captured After Car Chases

Shown above is the dark blue coupe in which the two bandits who held up the Norwood branch of the Imperial Bank shortly after noon Tuesday made a sensational but vain attempt to escape. The car is shown where it crashed into the curb on Jasper avenue and 97 street. It is surrounded by a large crowd of curious and excited citizens attracted to the scene by the sound of shots and the crash. The picture was taken a few moments after the thugs were captured and taken in the city police station where they are now being held.

Material Help Is Pledge to Combat Force

United States President Announces Double Program To Assist Allies And Prepare Own Nation's Defences

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., June 11.—Urging "full speed ahead" upon a double program of arming the Allies and preparing the United States for any eventualities, President Roosevelt declared last night that if the "gods of force" won world dominance, the United States would be lodged in prayer, "handcuffed, hungry and fed through the bars from day to day by the contemptuous, unfeeling masters of other continents."

"Once more," he said in an address at the University of Virginia's commencement exercises, "the future of the American people is at stake," and "the whole of our sympathies lie with those nations which are giving their life blood in combat" against the armies of "force and hate."

NEW MILLIONS ARE VOTED FOR U.S. DEFENCE

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Voting millions more than President Roosevelt asked for—the United States appropriation committee today reported a supplemental American defense bill totaling more than one billion seven hundred million dollars.

Meanwhile at the White House officials said that Roosevelt's promise to throw America's "material resources" into the struggle on the side of the Allies against Germany and Italy brought thousands of telegrams.

Secretary Stephen A. Bess said the telegrams were virtually all unanimous in approving Roosevelt's stand.

So heavy was the flow of congratulatory messages that for the first time in White House history the White House telegraphers could not handle the volume.

At the same time two Congressmen, additional sentiment echoed the President's pro-Ally stand.

give chase to the bandits, who were captured when they crashed into the south curbing at the intersection of Jasper Ave. and 97 St. as they endeavored to turn west on Jasper. The fleeing car was crowded into the curb by the driver of the Chrysler Chrysler truck. Miller was riding on the running board of the truck blowing ash at the fleeing car.

As the bandit car crashed into the curbing, breaking the left front wheel, the bandits turned from the curb and started to run across Jasper. They were being overtaken by bystanders and held until taken into custody by the police.

Successful in getting some cash from the bank the robbers did not intend to enjoy their ill-gotten gains. They were in the hands of the police within a few minutes of the commission of the crime.

BULLET HITS CAR
Several several shots had been fired in the fleeing car. One bullet mark was visible on the rear of the car. This was on the upper part of the rear window and the bullet had just opposite the driver's seat.

The car was carrying Manitoba license number 1678. Inside the car were Alberta license number 1542. These plates were purchased recently apparently by the car. The car was a 1935 Ford.

The driver of the car was told to stop. He refused to do so. He was then shot in the back and the car was driven away. The driver was taken to the hospital.

SCORES TO SETTLE
There are naval scores to settle between the British and French navies. The British navy has been accused of attacking French merchant ships in the Mediterranean.

French Armies Check Nazi Invaders' Push Along Seine to Paris

The French army, augmented since the outbreak of war by the 15th and 16th squadrons of the Royal Navy, has been ordered to the Mediterranean to meet the challenge of Italy's light but powerful navy for supremacy of the inland sea.

Nazi Unable To Push Ahead
Last night it reported the Germans had crossed the Seine at several points, but today's announcement indicated the invaders had been unable to push farther in this attempt to swing around the capital and take it from the rear.

As the day dawned Paris was covered by a strange acrid smoke that obscured the sun and hung over the city like a pall. It first began to appear early last night.

The high command's communique said:
"It is confirmed that between the sea and the Oise attempts by the enemy to advance beyond the Seine were held."
"Between the Oise and the Ource the enemy sought during the night to make contact with our new positions."

Nothing of Importance On Aine
"Nothing of importance to report on the Aine and the Meuse."

On the Alps front our troops are in position and have not been attacked."
German tanks, operating alone, were reported to have reached the environs of Paris already although the main front was no nearer than 35 or 40 miles.

Parls was but a shell as the German tanks moved on. The German tanks moved on. The German tanks moved on.

AGUARDIA SAYS DEMOCRACY CAN NOT BE CRUSHED
"Mussolini," said the mayor, "has deprived the Italian people of a glorious page in history and has subjected them to the scorn of the world for generations yet to come."

As we listened to President Roosevelt's communique, we were reminded of the fact that the first war was won by the Allies, we were proud of being Americans.

"We could then look our Canadian colleagues square in the eyes and give them the real battle of friendship."

Mr. Laguardia said American and Canadian may have been planning to exchange valia for some time but never expected the first wait would take place at such a time of difficulty.

At the extreme end of the active line the French were being pushed back in the Argentine district.

In withdrawing from Paris the government had decided to adopt the plan of the British government, which was adopted in the last war.

$3,000,000 General Hospital To Be Opened Wednesday

100-Bed Building Marvel of Modern Scientific Skill

High dignitaries of the state and the Roman Catholic church and hospital and civic officials will participate in the official opening of the new $3,000,000 hundred-bed building at a ceremony to be held Wednesday morning.

The new hospital will be consecrated at a mid-morning ceremony by Most Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Roman Catholic archbishop of Edmonton. Officials of the provincial and civic governments, including Lord, Gov. J. C. Brown, Premier William Abernethy and Mayor John W. Fry have been invited to attend.

Later in the day, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. the building will open for inspection by the public, it was announced by H. Milton Martin, chairman of the advisory board.

OPENED IN 1885
First opened in Edmonton in 1885 by the Sisters of Charity missionary order, the General Hospital has played an important part in the hospitalization of Edmonton and district.

The latest addition to the hospital plant was designed and constructed supervised by the Edmonton architectural firm of G. H. MacDonald and H. A. Magoon. The general construction contract was let to H. G. MacDonald, Edmonton; Harry A. Angus, Toronto, was consultant on mechanical equipment.

PREPARATION
The design of the building, including the preparation of drawings, specifications, and the accompanying travel and conferences required for the study and design of the building, the owners, their advisory board and the architects, for the past year. The actual construction occupied an additional and almost equal period of time.

In deference to world conditions the original plan was eventually modified, but the present construction leaves the necessary facility for future expansion, and although modest in size it is felt by those directly concerned to be a distinct advance on western Canadian hospital design, and close to the best anywhere.

The new building is joined to the older sections of the hospital and the power house both by tunnel and passage.

The building is six stories high including the basement. The basement contains service rooms such as main diet kitchen, cafeteria, garbage freezing and ice making rooms, sterilized linen, valve and pump rooms, transformer room, storage rooms, etc.

The other floors can be considered as divided into east and west wings. The centre of the first floor contains main lobby and reception rooms, receiving rooms, ambulance entrance and elevators.

The west wing contains the office, board room and a small canteen. The east wing is for the time being a medical ward wing complete with kitchen, sink room, linen room and control desk.

MEN'S, WOMEN'S WARD
The second floor is the public patients' floor, with men's wards on one side and women's wards on the other. Each wing has its own kitchen and stairway. The central and common features are the nurses' control station, pacifier, general toilet and bath, the diet kitchen and elevators and the linen room, a super room communicating with a quiet room, and the house maid's sink room.

The same arrangement applies to the third floor which is the private patients' floor.

On the public patients' floor, the greatest number of the wards are four-bed with some semi-private rooms.

On the private patients' floor, however, the rooms are almost entirely single-bed wards, with some semi-private wards and the four-bed wards are de luxe rooms, some with private bath.

The west wing of the maternity floor consists of a combination of the other two floors—public, semi and private and de luxe wards, complete with kitchen, sink, linen rooms, etc. The parlor is common to this and the maternity operating department which occupies the east wing.

OPERATING SUITE
The operating suite on this floor consists of a preliminary case room, between this room and the main case room is located a large sterilization and nurse's scrub-up room and a large sterilizing and work room. The two operating rooms connect directly through the scrub room. The main case room is a large operating room fitted in full with the latest practically all the facilities of an operating room and large instrument cabinets. On the same side of the corridor are sink room and doctors' sleeping room accommodation.

On the south-east of the corridor, a nurses' room occupies the corner, then the baby formula and milk room and the work room for bathing and dressing the babies. Then the large, bright nursery with double glass panes to the corridor. Next, the nurses' entrance with bath and lockers, and the perinatologist's room, reached by the infant isolation and adult isolation rooms for consultations.

The fourth floor of the east wing contains the main operating rooms, laboratory section and X-ray section. East of the centre are grouped suite room and main treatment and examining rooms.

On the north, the dispensary adjoining the laboratories and the large nurses' work room occupy practically the centre of the north floor.

The two main operating rooms are located north-east with sterilizing and scrub-up rooms between. One operating room is equipped with a student's gallery with glass barrier set in stainless steel setting bars.

On the south-east are two minor operating rooms with combined sterilizing and scrub-up room and solutions room between.

This group of four operating rooms together with the canteen and fractures rooms constitute the main surgical operating rooms. The general finish is the floors and walls in all the principal rooms, terrazzo floors and the walls in the sterilizing and scrub-up rooms.

The rooms are fully equipped, all having oxygen, gas, compression and suction, steel cabinets with glass shelves and doors and an additional bank of instrument cabinets of the same type on each side in the corridor.

The sterilizing equipment and lights were supplied by the American Sterilizer Co. and the new scrub-up sinks by the Crane Co. The glass and setting was supplied by Pilkington. This firm also supplied the "thermos" glass, which is used in many of the windows on this floor having a sunny exposure. It is probably the first instance of its use in the west. The glass overlies the double sheets of glass removes glare and acts as an insulator also. The laboratories are fully abated and arranged with fixed tables, sinks, gas, water and electric connections. The smaller (interior) laboratory is arranged for night use and is equipped with peristaltic pump, incubator, refrigerator, hot plate, cabinet, and a wide variety of table for microscopic examination.

To the west of the X-ray department is a group of small rooms arranged for metabolism and cardiograph tests and diathermy treatment.

Both laboratory and X-ray sections are provided with doctors' offices. The X-ray group consists also of the main large X-ray room and dressing rooms, etc. dark room and viewing room.

GENERAL CONTRACT
The general contract for the construction of the hospital was let on August 17, 1939, to H. G. MacDonald and Co., contractors, whose excellent organization headed by his superintendent of construction, Karl Chuteau, carried out the work with thorough and careful attention.

Fine New Hospital Building Opens Tomorrow

This new building of extreme modern design will become the main building of the General Hospital, following opening ceremonies on Wednesday. Most Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Roman Catholic archbishop of Edmonton, will consecrate the new hospital building in a ceremony attended by representatives of the provincial government and the city of Edmonton. Sisters of Charity of Ville-Marie (Grey Nuns) have operated the General Hospital here since 1885. The building was designed by G. H. MacDonald and H. A. Magoon, architects. H. G. MacDonald and Co., general contractors, were in charge of construction.

lean Sterilizer Co. and the new scrub-up sinks by the Crane Co. The glass and setting was supplied by Pilkington. This firm also supplied the "thermos" glass, which is used in many of the windows on this floor having a sunny exposure. It is probably the first instance of its use in the west. The glass overlies the double sheets of glass removes glare and acts as an insulator also. The laboratories are fully abated and arranged with fixed tables, sinks, gas, water and electric connections. The smaller (interior) laboratory is arranged for night use and is equipped with peristaltic pump, incubator, refrigerator, hot plate, cabinet, and a wide variety of table for microscopic examination.

To the west of the X-ray department is a group of small rooms arranged for metabolism and cardiograph tests and diathermy treatment. Both laboratory and X-ray sections are provided with doctors' offices. The X-ray group consists also of the main large X-ray room and dressing rooms, etc. dark room and viewing room.

GENERAL CONTRACT
The general contract for the construction of the hospital was let on August 17, 1939, to H. G. MacDonald and Co., contractors, whose excellent organization headed by his superintendent of construction, Karl Chuteau, carried out the work with thorough and careful attention.

The framework, foundation and floor construction of the building is entirely reinforced concrete, which together with the other fireproof materials provides a solid, rigid and very safe construction.

An outstanding contribution of modern research to the modern hospital, is a realization of the great influence of extraneous cold or heated bodies on the patient. In order to obtain ideal conditions, the entire exterior of the building, among other precautions taken, has been insulated.

Features of interest connected with the windows is that they are all weather striped, and double glazed with a small white metal sash set in felt in the wood sash. Sashes are provided with the modern spiral balance and each window has the well known Pella roll screen, which rolls up like a blind when in use. R. H. Palmer, representing the Creswell Pumphrey Co. of Toronto provided and installed this material.

SOUND CONTROL
In the interior construction of the building very special attention has been given to the control of sound by insulation, by absorption and by prevention. Insulation is accomplished by closing up spaces in ceilings and by the use of split partitions around noisy sections of the building and around quiet rooms, etc.

Prediction of sound is minimized by the use of insulated ventilating ducts, linoleum floors, silent door strikes, silent washers, piping equipment and silent patient's call etc.

Interior lathing is Gyproc and metal lath, all ceilings are metal lath suspended on steel bars to accommodate pipes, air conditioning ducts. Elevator shafts, etc. are entirely constructed of brick and where necessary are lined with cork. Radiator recesses are also lined with cork.

The balance of the floors which also cover a large extent, are in terrazzo and tile using Ontario marble chips supplied and laid down, ground and polished by the Empire Tile and Marble Co. Special designs such as the main lobby floors and interesting pattern and figures in the nursery are from designs by the architects of the building.

The system of electrical distribution and transforming power to lighting current, which is the most modern, was designed by S. E. Noble, engineer, in association with the architect's staff.

There are polished telephone electric clocks throughout the building. The X-ray equipment is of the latest design Victor X-Ray, and the department includes dark room facilities, viewing room equipment, wet and dry plates, dressing rooms and office. There is also separate X-ray in the canteen and fracture department and radiographic illuminators in main operating department, etc.

Elevators are car switch and button control of the most modern type. The main passenger elevator is a micrometer controlled self-leveling and is specially protected on the interior to prevent damage to the cage.

FREIGHT ELEVATOR
The freight elevator which carries the electrically-heated food trucks to all floors, is immediately alongside the passenger elevator but opens directly into the diet kitchen on each floor for food distribution. De luxe rooms have private bath and medicine cabinet.

Each room is provided with lavatory, mirror, shelf and towel rack. There is no exposed piping above the basement of the building. Concealed water piping, etc., is all copper, radiators are all recessed and concealed.

All toilets, bathrooms, sink rooms, kitchens and service rooms are provided with forced ventilation through electrically driven section fans and metal ducts. The sterilizing equipment is all pressure steam with vapor venting. The refrigeration throughout is electrical. The nursery is provided in addition with bottle sterilizer

Each department has steam heated blanket warmer. The instrument cabinets, sink and the instrument cabinets, sink tables, etc.

SPECIAL FUND OF RED CROSS ANSWERS PLEA

50 Field Ambulances Are Needed; Call For Blankets

To meet the needs of the British Red Cross Society, who have made an urgent appeal to the Canadian branches of the organization for 50 field ambulances for use in France, citizens are being reminded that a special banking account has been opened at the main branch of the Bank of Montreal, the corner of Jasper Avenue and 101 street, for contributions to the fund.

A suggestion has been put forward by a resident of Marwayne, Alta., that participants in amateur sports competitions should donate a percentage of their prizes won to the Red Cross Society.

It is expected that city sportsmen will fall in line with this suggestion.

TOTAL IS $110
Funds contributed to the special fund at the Bank of Montreal, up to Tuesday, amounted to $110. An ambulance fully equipped costs approximately $5,000. The committee has already been contacted.

Enrolling their support of the Dominion-wide drive of the Twentieth Century Women's Liberal Club has opened a fund for contributions toward the purchasing of an ambulance. Contributions will be accepted at the office of the club at 113 McLeod building, and promises of donations may be phoned to Mrs. J. C. Closser, president, at 2382, or to any other member.

Shipment of made-up blankets to the Yellowknife N.W.T., branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, has been received by the organization in Edmonton. The shipment contained four big cartons of goods. The branch at Yellowknife was opened about Christmas-time, and residents of the district have been working since that time to aid the society.

BLANKETS NEEDED
Additional contributions of goods, blankets, and funds have been received from many other districts. The blankets will be forwarded to France for use in the hospitals there and for the 5,000,000 or more refugees from war-torn areas.

More than 500 blankets have been received by the Society or purchased by the fund donated to the Red Cross. Contributions of blankets and cash will be accepted at the office of the Red Cross society at 613 Tegner Building (phone 22303) and in the basement of the Catholic Block (phone 22303).

Through The Mill
He was only half the size of his storm and strife, the man who laid charge of assault and he looked so meek and mild with his snow white locks that the spectators were not so bewildered about the number of his blows. And even the magistrate himself thought for a moment that the wrong party had been charged after the misnomer of the accused went to the box and told the story, which was more or less to this effect: "My wife and I were walking down the street and I saw a man who was looking at me and started scuffling with another man, who was trying to quiet him. I got in and I was hit and got hard. He's been asking for it for 15 years."

"I thought you were assaulted," the judge observed.

"Oh, yes, he hit me over the head once. That made me dizzy. I was hit but hurt more because he saw his coming to him," said the "injured" spouse with considerable spirit. The court took a good look at that complainant, who is tall and robust, then he asked a second glance at the accused who is both frail and feeble.

"Case dismissed," was the verdict, but added that he thought that people as old as the accused should be made to learn how to get along with their wives.

Caboose Looted
An odd burglary was being investigated by police Tuesday, following a complaint from the C.P.R. investigation department that a caboose in the South Side yards was broken into and a number of articles stolen. Club bag, ticket punch, raincoat, clubbrush, two pairs of pants and a raincoat were stolen after the lock of the door had been forced.

They Captured Fleeing Bank Bandits

With the wrecked car used by the alleged bandits in the background, the three young men shown above were central figures in the daring chase and capture of two men who held up the Norwood Branch of the Imperial Bank shortly after noon Tuesday. At the left is Teller James Livingstone, 1128 27 street, who fired four shots at the robbers after being forced to hand over cash to the pair at the bank office. In the center is Lindsay Miller, clerk of the bank, who stood on the running board of the truck driven by George W. Miller, 1128 27 street, right, and fired five shots at the robber car as the two autos raced at high speed down 27 street. George Miller, driver for the Clear River Cleaners in addition to an exciting chase in his truck, also nabbed one of the fleeing robbers after they abandoned their wrecked car at 27 street and Jasper Avenue.

Enemy Aliens Are Prohibited From Working For City

Visions of fifth columns danced before the eyes of Edmonton's city fathers at their meeting Monday night in the city hall. This makes two meetings in a row that the German "bilitzkrieg" has received the official attention of the aldermen.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
The Bulletin recalls Briar Price, an Edmontonian, who was arrested in the United States for the sale of enemy aliens by contractors doing work for the city.

A letter from Ottawa's city clerk to the city fathers, dated June 10, has gained impetus as the evening over and over problems arise which have the aldermen something to sink their teeth into.

The letter from Ottawa said that Edmonton's city council enquired a request to the Dominion government calling upon that body to sponsor an immediate registration of all persons over 16 years of age. Responsibility for such registration would rest with the head of every household.

MOVES CONCURRENCE
Lt.-Col. A. E. Brown, M.M., E.D. ex-commandant, moved concurrence in the subject matter of the letter and he was seconded by Ald. A. Blair Peterson. The motion carried.

Aldermen then turned their attention to a letter from Rice Shepard, 6722 81 street, who, as acting secretary for a meeting recently held in King Edward Park district, submitted a resolution for council approval.

The resolution read: "Resolved that the city council be requested that all persons employed by the city, naturalized or otherwise, and that the proper authorities be asked to inquire same for the duration of the war."

"And that all contracts given to the city require that no alien be employed on such work. That the proper authorities be asked to take care of firearms and ammunition in the hands of the R.C.M.P."

Commissioner R. J. Gibb, fresh from his duties as acting mayor in Calgary, arose and assured the meeting that there were not any alien contractors working for the city. He also assured them that the question of firearms was in the hands of the R.C.M.P.

ADVICE TO CONTRACTORS
Deputy Mayor St. Parons quickly pointed out that the second paragraph, regarding advice to contractors, certainly had some merit. He said that he would be giving the contractors a letter to that effect.

MOUNTIES FIND NO TRACE YET OF KIDNAPPERS
SASKATOON, June 11.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police last night said no trace had been found of two dapper bandits alleged to have held a robbery and kidnaping of a woman named Kaye, 60, of Bennett, Sask. near Wynyard Friday night.

Although information about the men has been widely circulated in the west, no arrests have been made, police said.

McKay, a representative of the Saskatchewan Farm Loan Board, told police that he was bound, gagged and marked by the men. He said he had been dragged and left in a lonely barn near Dalnysburg, northwest of Saskatoon.

While he was unconscious the men robbed him of $58 and made off with his car.

He told reporters later that the men had taken a cheque for $5,000. It was after his refusal, he said, that he was dragged.

The best of this battle will be in the greatest summer of championships it has ever seen. The day after the district event is settled, the Alberta Amateur golf underway at the Highlands-June 25 to July 1.

Then comes a full in which Edmonton golfers will have a chance to get in a spot of racing during Exhibition week and prepare for the greatest golf feature this city has ever witnessed—the Canadian amateur—Mayfair Country Club from July 30 to August 1 inclusive.

Mayfair is already groomed beautifully for this classic and Tommy Morrison is improving it daily. All the hundred odd details connected with a national tourney are being attended to by able committees and indications are that a brilliant list of showmakers will be matching their wares when the shooting starts.

Diz Has Commanding Wife

ANDY LITTLE of the Toronto Star figures that a bum arm is not the only problem that Dizy Dean has to contend with. Says Andy in a recent column:

"Jerome Hanna 'Dizy' Dean, over whose purchase the Chicago Cubs pulled the biggest financial boner in history, has gone to the minors. There are two reasons for it. One is an arm that wouldn't respond to training. The other, and principal one, is the woman he married.

"I know something about nagging women. In fact I could put my finger on two or three champions and not pull a muscle out of shape from reaching.

"Dizy was nagged in the home, at the ball park and in the public domain. Lapsed two hours in the bed room at Cincinnati when Dizy was the big shot of the town. It was reported that he was in bed for a week. Dean stretched his magnificent length in one bed. He was clad in Alliceville pyjamas. Mr. D. repeated in the other town, even in maroon get-up with a slight dash of cigarette. She replied to most of my questions, took the answers right away from Mr. D.

"He had to light her cigarette, fresh an apple, order her breakfast. He lit a cigarette. She made him put it out. Frankie French broke out in a nerve profanity when I spoke about Mr. Dean. So did the road secretary. 'Dean's the father, it's all right. But that woman!' "At the ball park, where Dizy and Paul gaudily-nudged posed for pictures, Mrs. Dean sat close by. She bullied Dizy as he posed. She ordered Paul around. She dictated that the pictures must be shown, for her approval (she hasn't seen them yet). She actually told him to push for an action shot. She was, in short, a 'bitch'.

"There is scarcely a safer leader in the country who hasn't had experience of being dominated, even attacked materially to athletic success. I saw an entire hockey club wrecked by a convincing, dominating, two-woman wife. Most of us are athletic success for women as well as men. But O'Day is an eighteen-carat cuckoo for the circus fair he thought was a love apple."

Broadway Puts Kops On Joe

OWING to the fact that Canadians have a slightly more important job on their hands these days, you may have forgotten that come next week Joe Louis will again defend his heavyweight championship against Arturo Godoy, the Cuban, champion of New York.

It was Godoy who went the distance with Louis in February with a performance that was a cross between a kang and a lumber-jack's cut dance—a skipping, prancing, ducking display of agility that a ballerina would have envied. He polished it off by kissing everyone in sight.

However the boys along Broadway who make a living by guessing a little better than the other guys have no doubt about what will happen on the night of June 20. Prices on Yankee Stadium going at a six rounds are even money, 2-1 on a kayak in 10 rounds and 4-1 on Godoy taking the count in 15 rounds.

McLemore Delves into Relative Time Factor

By HENRY MCLEMORE

British Union Press, Toronto—Edmonton Bulletin.
NEW YORK, June 11.—Time, tide and good looking blondes are not the only things which wait for no man. And baseball is another, which you can find out for yourself by taking a stop-watch with you to a major league game.

Your appreciation of the speed, skill and precision of the play will be increased three-fold if you realize how little time it takes time to execute the most complicated maneuvers on the field.

How much time do you think it takes from the moment the pitcher releases the ball, the batter hits it, the shortstop picks it and throws to second, the second baseman picks it and the ball lands in the first baseman's glove for a double play?

It takes a double play in the time it takes a ball to travel from the pitcher's hand to the 407 feet sign in right center field at Yankee Stadium and the speed to run to third in 11 seconds, you'll have a single knock-out of the Yankees and Clift of the Browns hit triple like this and it took only 11 seconds.

What time for home? What's your guess on the time required for a Diamond home run? It's from the moment the pitcher releases the ball, the batter hits it, the shortstop picks it and throws to second, the second baseman picks it and the ball lands in the first baseman's glove for a double play?

She Makes Champions From Chumps

once did everything wrong. Bobby Riggs, bottom, rose to be a king under Eleanor's training, while Wilby Van Horn, upper right, is her latest pupil.

Eleanor Tennant, Coach Of Champs, Has Rare Gift For Spotting Talent

By JERRY BRONFELD

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, June 11.—Eleanor Tennant might just as well be known as Eleanor Tennis. Few people have done as much for the game. Even now, while touring with Alice Marble, her greatest pupil, she continues to do the work that gives her the most enjoyment—giving free clinics for kids.

If anyone can bring talent out of a boy or girl, Eleanor, dynamic Miss Tennant is the one. She picks the champion-to-be out of a crowd of green hands.

She did it with Miss Marble, the women's champion. She did it again with Robert Riggs, the men's champion.

It was her timely advice to Wilby Van Horn last season which sent the Los Angeles kid on his way to fame.

"Wilby Van Horn can't miss being the national champion," says Miss Tennant, who is a coach, trainer, strategist and psychologist.

Gracing clinics in southern California, Miss Tennant noticed that a black-haired teen-ager showed promise whenever the word "champion" was mentioned.

She found his enthusiasm and his spirit, realized the boy was a champion in the making. She named him Bobby Riggs.

Miss Marble was 17 when "Trach," as the queen of the courts calls her, first saw the world's most spectacular player. Miss Tennant recalls how Miss Marble was using a flimsy racket and was 100 per cent wrong to her right.

Miss Marble came from a family of very modest means. She was making her money as Miss Tennant's private tutor and was the head of the tennis team at the University of California.

Miss Tennant paid for the first lessons Alice received from H. Ward Kneiss, who Miss Tennant later knew and who she later introduced to the tennis world.

The entry of Miss Eleanor Tennant into the tennis world was the result of a chance meeting. She was in the city when she met the tennis player, who was then a champion.

ARROWS 2-0

George Elchuk Hurls Smart Three-Hit Ball

Exclusive To The Edmonton Bulletin
WETASKIWIN, June 11.—In the tightest ball game of the young season the Wetaskiwin Mustangs shut out the Arrows 2-0 in a Central Alberta League game played here last night.

George Elchuk, working a fine curve ball when he had to, held the Arrows to three scattered hits while his teammates clubbed the offerings of Bud Foley for eight.

Wetaskiwin scored in the first when Palechek rapped out a triple and came home on Elchuk's long single to right field. They added their second run in the eighth when Billigan drove a base hit for a fielder's choice advance to third. Watson then drove a long single to left field scoring Bergen.

The Arrows' only scoring chance in the fourth inning, Fairhurst flamed a screaming triple down the right foul line but was left stranded. Delmonico striking out and Neil Colville grounding out, Bergen lone.

High slicker for the day was Watson who hit safely three times in four trips to the plate.

Manero Repaid Old Friendship Debt As Sarazen Tied National Open Title

(CLEVELAND, June 11.—This is a story about the great friendship between Gene Sarazen and Tony Manero—a story about how a debt that cannot be measured in dollars was repaid Saturday on the skinny, soggy fairways of a Canterbury Country Club.

This story starts long ago and far away—four years ago on a golf course in the Allegheny mountains at the Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, N.J., where the 1935 National Open championship was being played.

It was a June day then, too, and the cast of characters was the same—Tony Manero and Gene Sarazen.

The luck of the pairings had put Manero and Sarazen together, and they came down the last nine holes with Sarazen having no chance to win the recent prize in golf. But Manero had a chance.

Harry Cooper was in with a 294 and it looked like the winning score. The rules of golf forbid one player from giving advice or comfort to another one when a tournament is being played.

Gene rooted him home. As the crowd roared on his heels at Baltusrol, leaving him only narrow, dangerous lanes of human flesh through which to shoot, Manero sensed that Sarazen, his partner from the day before, was not only a friend but a man who had helped him to win the National Open championship.

Four years slipped by and Gene Sarazen, out here on a course where the wind and rain were sending scores soaring, and this time it was Tony Manero who had no chance to win the open championship. Sarazen was the only man who had won the same name that Manero had in 1935.

And the luck of the pairings had made Sarazen and Manero partners again, playing in a threesome with Dick Metz.

It was the same situation as occurred at Baltusrol four years ago. Sarazen had finished with 287 and Sarazen was the only man who had a chance to catch him.

Manero, remembering Baltusrol and what happened there in 1935, sent a messenger boy to the press tent to find out how Sarazen was to do or win. The boy brought back the 14th tee that Sarazen needed par on the last three holes.

Sarazen found that out and went to work. He got his par on each of the three holes.

And as the ball rattled into the cup on the 18th, those two great birds, Sarazen and Manero, and a wide grin for each other. Sarazen had his 287 for a tie.
